Good Morning!

Two friends were talking over coffee one morning. One told of a harrowing experience she'd had with her little canary, Chirpy. The little bird had brought much joy into their home with its beautiful singing. However, one day the week before, as the woman was vacuuming, she decided she'd just vacuum up the seeds in the bottom of Chirpy's cage. Just as she started, her phone rang. Distracted, as she reached to pick it up, she accidentally sucked Chirpy into the vacuum's wand. Fearing the worst, she switched off the vacuum and opened up the canister. There in the midst of all the dirt was little Chirpy, looking a bit frazzled, but still alive. Relieved, the woman retrieved Chirpy. But, before returning him to his cage, she noted that he looked dirty. So, she decided to give him a bath under the kitchen faucet. When she turned on the faucet, the force of the water swept Chirpy out of her hand. He was already going down the drain when she managed to snag him by one leg. Seeing little Chirpy half-drowned and shivering from the cold water, the woman dried him with a blow dryer. By this point in the story, the woman's friend sat with her mouth open in disbelief. Finally finding her voice she asked, "Oh my! How is Chirpy doing?" The woman just sort of stared off into the distance and mumbled, "Well, Chirpy doesn't sing very much anymore."

You know, sometimes life's circumstances can rob us of our song. In those times we can find ourselves either questioning or blaming God. Romans 8:28 is called by many, "The Greatest Promise in the Bible." It assures us that even when we are having a bad day, God is working to bring good out of the worst life has to throw at us. Now, that is some promise!

Standing on the Promises!
